

PREPARE FOR THE RECOVERY!

JOIN US FOR AN EXECUTIVE UPDATE ON VALUE DRIVERS AND CRITICAL SKILLS YOU NEED TO PREPARE FOR ECONOMIC RECOVERY.

We live in historic times.

What are the lessons? How are you applying them?

There are signs of economic recovery.

Conference Board economist Ken Goldstein said:

"If these trends continue, expect a slow recovery beginning before the end of the year."

(AP 06.19.09)

Some companies are seeing improvement. But even those that have turned the corner economically aren't reaping full benefits.

We need new ways of doing things.

About Your Speakers

Jody Alyn, Principal
Jody Alyn Consulting

Principal consultant, Jody Alyn, has shown thousands of professionals how to generate enthusiasm for diversity and add value to any business with inclusive practices; she has designed comprehensive initiatives and ground-breaking projects for companies and communities. An acclaimed speaker, Jody weaves real world stories into powerful lessons with immediate application. She's galvanized local and national audiences with her enthusiasm, humor, clear concepts and actionable ideas.

Jody Alyn Consulting is a woman-owned small business that provides organizational development and corporate diversity strategies for public, private, academic and nonprofit sector clients. To learn more, visit: www.alynconsulting.com.

This program is for executives who want to:

- Drill down into your business' three main value drivers:
 - your market,
 - your leadership team and
 - your employees.
- Discover the big-D driver that connects them all and secures your bottom line in good times and bad.
- Identify things you can do to position your company for recovery and sustainability.

Economists note that any recovery will be fragile. Get ready for good times – and build sustainability no matter what comes next. Register now for this instructive and interactive event.

Larry Turner, CEO
Roundhouse Advisors, Inc.

Larry Turner is CEO of Roundhouse Advisors, Inc. and has over 25 years experience growing, starting up, repositioning and revitalizing organizations. Larry has run companies from startup to 1600 employees.

He has successfully increased the value of every business he's run by managing the value drivers and engaging employees in positive change. Larry is also a public speaker and author of Owner Exit Planning: Leave on Your Own Terms, a business owner's guide to maximizing results.

Roundhouse Advisors, Inc is a consulting practice focused on helping businesses increase enterprise value by managing pain, growth and owner exits. For more information, visit: www.roundhouseadvisors.com.

DATE: FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 2009
TIME: 7:30 - 11 AM; FULL BREAKFAST
COST: $75/PERSON

LOCATION: LAKEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB
6800 W. 10TH AVE
LAKEWOOD, CO 80214

For more information or to register, go to:
roundhouseadvisors.com/prepare.htm

JODY ALYN
c o n s u l t i n g